CZYTANIE (13 PKT)

W każdym punkcie zaznacz jedno z czterech zdań (A, B, C lub D) najbliższe treści poprzedzającego tekstu.

The objective has to be to reduce reasonably the number of people who are searched, and perhaps the scope of the search. Our computer banks are surely up to the challenge of coming up with a scale from 0 to 100 on the likelihood that a particular traveler is mischievous? Can we reasonably assume that a passenger who is over 50 years old edges up in the direction of unlikelihood as a saboteur? The point is not dismissed by simply finding some 75-year-old who once tried to blow up an airplane. We are talking about likelihood.

If the passenger has a clean police record, a family, a job, retirement savings — add these up, one at a time and you have accomplished something which translates into fewer strip searches for women — or, for that matter, men. One passenger searched in the Midwest a few months ago turns out to have been the same man who ran for president on the Democratic ticket in 2000. Al Gore was a very good sport about it. An inspiring contrast was the late Warren Burger, who flatly refused to travel on any airline that insisted on probing his crotch. His point was that as former chief justice of the Supreme Court of the United States he should not be treated as a possible terrorist, never mind what some people have said about his policies.

1. The author advocates the airlines to ....

A/ reduce the scope of the security operations C/ spend more money on security
B/ increase intelligence gathering D/ use age as the main screening parameter

2. The author's attitude towards Al Gore's behaviour is ....

A/ unconditional praise B/ compassion and admiration C/ somewhat qualified praise
D/ sincere pity

3. The author's attitude towards the State is that of ...

A/ respect B/ distrust C/ ridicule D/ animosity

The Night Riviera service used to be a well-guarded secret. It wasn't advertised and those responsible for selling advance rail tickets would strenuously deny all knowledge of it. The only way to obtain a berth, as far as I knew, was to turn up on the platform at ten to midnight and negotiate with a steward.

Last year, however, the Strategic Rail Authority more or less admitted the existence of the Night Riviera by publicly threatening to axe it to save £2.5 million. This announcement, plus the subsequent wailing and gnashing of teeth by a small but well-connected and vociferous coterie of regular users brought the media spotlight to bear. The train was reprieved, but thanks to the SRA's foolishness the cat is now well and truly out of the bag, and the feeling among us of belonging to a small society of true believers is gone.

That more people know about it than formerly came home to me last week. I turned up on platform one relatively sober and eager for bed. I found a steward and asked for a berth. She looked at her clipboard. Sorry, she was full, she said, shaking her head in disbelief.

4. The author's standpoint is that of a/an ...

A/ critic of the government's extravagance C/ member of a privileged group
B/ reactionary antidemocrat D/ enemy of bureaucracy

5. In this case some public money was saved due to the action of...

A/ the media B/ regular passengers C/ railway staff D/ a bureaucratic body

6. The incident shows that the taxpayers are best served through....

A/ privatisation B/ competition C/ confidentiality D/ openness

In both studies, a low-carbohydrate diet of the sort Dr Atkins recommended was compared with a low-fat diet over the course of a year. Both studies found what dieters have known for a while: that weight is lost more quickly on Atkins. After six months, both Atkins groups had lost more weight than their low-fat counterparts. However, by the end of the study, each group of dieters had lost about the same amount of weight.

Although the Atkins diet is laden with protein and contains a plentiful supply of fat, dieters showed an increase in the level of their high-density lipoproteins (so-called "good" cholesterol) and no increase in the level of their "bad" cholesterol. In addition, people with diabetes had better control of their blood-sugar levels when on Atkins. The reason that the diet has been the target of consistent abuse from the scientific establishment is that its rules contradict the central pillars of received nutritional wisdom. These are that eating a diet which is low in fat and high in starch reduces the risk to the consumer of developing heart disease and cancer, and also promotes weight loss.

7. The Atkins diet ....

A/ is a relatively recent development C/ has enjoyed some popularity for years

B/ has divided university nutritionists D/ has been ignored by scientists

8. The text suggests that the Atkins diet ...

A/ has no scientific foundation C/ has a scientific foundation comparable to other diets

B/ can be dangerous with some diseases D/ deserves to be studied by nutritionists

9. The fact is that just announcing plans to demolish the homes in an area will immediately demolish part of their market value. Even if homeowners are compensated _____ their homes are actually demolished – which can be years later – they have still been had.

A/ in full by developers in whose interest C/ by the local government before

B/ for whatever value remains when D/ and find better dwellings after

10. I tried to point out some of the cultural meanings of the vogue for tattooing. First, _____ Tattoos were always kitsch, implying not only the absence of taste but the presence of dishonest emotion.

A/ it was aesthetically worse than worthless. C/ it represented a downward slide in fashion

B/ it had dire consequences for your ego D/ it was invariably offensive to your skin

11. Even worse than the correspondent's implicitly totalitarian assumption was his lack of awareness of _____ and how social existence becomes tolerable, let alone pleasant. After all, the law does not prohibit rudeness, boorishness, and an infinity of unpleasant habits.

A/ how societies cohere, C/ how politics corrupts morals,

B/ the things that matter, D/ what basic decency is,

12. Snow piled high on our front deck and on our roof. Sometimes the roof's snow mass, warmed underneath by the _____, would slide down until it met the snow heap on the deck and then freeze there, shutting off the front of the house like a security gate.

A/ short-lived thaws B/ heat it was insulating C/ inversion of sunlight D/ midday warmth

13. Visions from the 1950s of a world in which robots performed the domestic chores, meals were taken as pills and we zoomed around in personal helicopters were _____. Critically, nobody from that era foresaw the rise and ubiquity of the computer. Thomas Watson, the legendary boss of IBM, once famously predicted that there might turn out to be a world market for just five computers.

A/ precariously on thin ice C/ exuberantly overoptimistic

B/ zany conservative D/ touchingly wide of the mark

The alarm was still sounding as Fitzgerald closed the back door and made his way quickly through the small store room towards the front of the shop. He ignored the rows of watches on their little stands, emeralds in their cellophane bags and gold objects of every 1/ _____ and shape displayed 2/ _____ a fine-mesh grille. All were carefully 3/ _____ with a name and date, 4/ _____ their impoverished owners could return 5/ _____ six months and reclaim their family heirlooms. Few ever did.

Fitzgerald swept aside the bead 6/ _____ that divided the store room from the shop and paused 7/ _____ the counter. His eyes rested 8/ _____ a battered leather case on a stand in the centre of the window. 9/ _____ on the lid in faded gold letters were the 10/ _____ 'D.V.R.' He remained absolutely still 11/ _____ he was certain that no one was looking 12/ _____.

When Fitzgerald had sold the hand-crafted masterpiece to the shopkeeper 13/ _____ that day, he explained that as he had no 14/ _____ of returning to Bogota, it could go on 15/ _____ immediately. Fitzgerald was not surprised that 16/ _____ piece had already been placed in the window. There wouldn't be 17/ _____ one like it in Colombia. He was about to 18/ _____ over the counter when a young man strolled 19/ _____ the window. Fitzgerald froze, but the man's 20/ _____ was wholly occupied by a small 21/ _____ he was pressing to his left ear. He took 22/ _____ as much notice of Fitzgerald as he 23/ _____ of a tailor's dummy. Once he was out of 24/ _____, Fitzgerald straddled the counter and 25/ _____ to the window. He glanced up and down the road to 26/ _____ for any casual observers, but there were 27/ _____. With one movement he removed the leather case from the stand and walked quickly 28/ _____. He leapt over the counter and 29/ _____ to look out of the window again to 30/ _____ himself that no inquisitive eyes 31/ _____ witnessed the burglary.

Fitzgerald swung round, pulled aside the curtain and strode on towards the closed door. He checked his watch. The alarm had been blaring away for ninety-eight seconds. He stepped into the alley and listened. Had he heard the whine of a police siren, he would have turned left and disappeared into the maze of streets that ran behind the pawnbroker's shop. But apart from the alarm, everything remained silent. He turned right and walked casually in the direction of Carrera Septima.
